

ASILI BY ANIKA

FOR ALL YOUR GIFTING AND GLASSWARE NEEDS

ABOUT US

The idea for this business was conceptualised by the artist and founder in 2020, after a lot of trial and error, began the brand Asili ByAnika. Asili Means “Nature” in Kiswahili. A language from East Africa, where Anika the Artist and founder grew up. We are a Glassware and gifting brand, that provides functional art. Art that you can hold, sip from, and eat from. Our pieces elevate a room, create a buzz at a parties and makes an excellent gifting solution for special occasions, or as a party favour.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

The artist, Anika, grew up in East Africa on the beach island of Mombasa, where her early years were deeply influenced by the sea, natural textures, and colour. Recognised as the top artist in her school, she went on to study Textiles in the United Kingdom at Loughborough University, followed by specialised training in pattern cutting in Milan, Italy.

After exploring the fashion industry, Anika returned to her roots and in 2007 began an export business in Kenya, working with kikoy — a traditional Kenyan fabric — producing and exporting sarongs internationally. Following her marriage and move to India, she continued this export business from Delhi.

In 2020, circumstances led her to close the business, prompting a return to her true passion for art. Drawing on her background in textiles and design, Anika began working with glass, resin, and mixed media, developing a distinctive style of handcrafted glassware. Today, she is one of the very few artists in India creating glassware using this specialised approach, producing functional art pieces that combine craftsmanship, individuality, and refined aesthetics.

We are MSME certified.

We deliver pan India, and are expanding our borders shortly
